That little coup elevated the Southsiders back into a tie with Cleveland for fourth place. The finishing touch was applied by three separate individuals. One was Ernie Johnson, lead-off man in the final stand. He slapped a single to center and Mulligan sacrificed.

Eddie Collins then stepped in with a one-baser that chased Johnson home with the tying run. Hooper was disposed of without trouble and Most!l was passed as a customer too tough to monkey with. It proved poor strategy, for a moment later Falk exploded a dinky bounder to short and it went for a hit. Collins scoring and letting the growd so home.

By BRIGGS BARNES BELIEVES 293 SCORE WILL WIN BRITISH OPEN

English Fear Cup Will Again Be Won by an American.

SANDWICH. June 21. — Jim Barnes, American open champion, will be the last of the Americans to drive off tomorrow in the British open championship and consequently it will be late evening before he finishes the first half of his heavy ordeal. Walter Hagen starts an hour earlier, while Jock Hutchison the defending champion, comes migray between them. Jock Hutchison, the defending champion, comes midway between them. Barnes is hoping that the old Biblical quotation "The Last Shall Be First" will work out in his case. He and the other pros are also hoping that the high wind which was sweeping over St. George's this aftercoon will be moderated tomorrow. Alex Herd and George Duncan will be the very first pair to get away and they will have almost completed their first round before Barnes goes away in company with Tom Williamson.

293 Should Win—Barnes.

293 Should Win-Barnes, While Barnes thinks the winning score will be 293 or over, Duncan figures it will be below 292, which means something better than aver-age 73's over the course where elevn yars ago Vardon and Massey tied for the open championship at 303. The majority of the players share Barnes' spinion that the win-ner will not be below 293. Today some of the qualifiers par-

Today some of the qualifiers participated in a driving contest, although only a few of the topnotchers were entered. Each player had to use three stardard balls and three over the regulation weight. A strong cross wind swept over the narrow fairway and such an accurate driver as Roger Wethered had four shots out of bounds. None of the competitors reached 200 yards and a majority droped short of 250, although Hagen had five balls just short a few feet beyond this line. The longest drive of the day was be might have been earning in the The longest drive of the day was made with a regulation ball and measured 277 yards. The extra distance which can be gained with the present day balls is the reason way Barnes and Duncan figure that the winner of this championship will be ten strokes better than Vardon's total in 1911.

Two of the longest drivers in Britain will be seen tomorrow when Tolley and Ted key go off together.
Hagen is the favorite in the betting with Barnes and Kirkwood as seeond choices. Few seem to fancy Hutchison's chances chiefly because the championship has not been won in two guecessive years since Braid gained with the present day balls is in two successive years since Braid took it in 1905 and '06. That fact is not worrying the present title holder who is full of confidence. There is no mistaking the fact that the British are really alarmed and quite prepared to see the over-seas contigent take away all th honors. Their chief reliance is placed in Duncan who has been playing brilliant and also erratic golf and is not the least bit satisfied with his game. "Who is going to stop the Yanks" is the question one hears many times at Sandwich.
